About the Judges

Logoworks is the world's largest and fastest-growing provider of graphic design services to small businesses. The company's mission is to help small businesses look great by solving a simple problem — small businesses don't have good options for getting a well-designed logo or other graphic design services at an affordable price. The company pioneered a new, disruptive model of design that leverages a team of designers on each project in order to create more variety and choice for the customer.

To date, Logoworks has empowered thousands of businesses with the same quality of design that used to be available only to larger businesses, at prices just a fraction of the cost: $299 to $599. Logoworks is a part of Hewlett-Packard and has offices in American Fork.
